To: The Executive Director and Board of Directors

I have had the opportunity to work with Brittany Karlin several times since she was in junior high school. At an early age Brittany showed that she was articulate, intelligent, capable of managing her time well - with a very busy schedule, kind, caring and passionate about her interests. It has been a pleasure to watch her develop these skills as she went through high school and now as a college student.

Brittany has a talent for connecting with people and she has the desire to tell the deeper story. This is exhibited in producing and broadcasting stories for "Newslink Indiana" where she seeks out a story, produces, edits and broadcasts it all in the same day. An example is the story she produced and broadcast about the food kitchens in Indiana and how providing the soup affected the people who participated in the program.

Brittany is seeking an internship in broadcasting at a news station due to her desire to improve her skills and learn the daily operations of the newsroom. She is a fine candidate for an internship. She is able to contribute news stories due to her experience, work ethic and skill sets; and, she will be an ambassador displaying the quality and integrity that the station expects of its employees and interns.

I highly recommend Brittany Karlin as a candidate for an Internship

Sincerely,
